Artwork Disclaimer & Process Printing

Upon your approval you agree to this disclaimer prior to print. Approving this proof means you understand that laser, ink jet, jpeg or pdf/digital proofs etc., do not accurately represent final print quality, and are purely for rough visual/copy approval purposes only.

Please know, We print on a variety of substrates and colored substrates i.e. glass, tin, and plastic. The same ink will look different on a white tin versus clear glass. Even the same color printed on white paper will look slightly different printed on a white tin due to the reflective qualities of the tin. Clients must understand that when printing CMYK it is very difficult to achieve an exact PMS match. We diligently strive to achieve exact matches whenever possible, but sometimes this is just not possible due to the color of the product or the substrates we're printing on. If you have a client who is adamant about exact PMS matches, we suggest a pre-pro sample for $50.00. It is important for you and your customer to understand that no matter how hard we try, PMS colors rarely look like the computer screen or the same as if they were printed on white paper.

Also, the process of some colors, gradients or mesh effects simply cannot be exactly reproduced using Full Color Inkjet Spray Ink, Silkscreen or Pad Print due to how the commercial printer reads the artwork file in the CMYK process. In addition, some shifting may occur to the artwork registration during this process.

Trade printing (In addition to our Artwork Disclaimer & Process Printing): The system of printing is not perfect, therefore, we require an additional 3% of product overs to cover any damages or defects in your products. If 3% cannot be provided, pricing will be increased to accommodate for exact quantities.

Claims for defects, damages, or shortages must be made in writing no later than 5 calendar days after delivery. If no such claim is made, the provider and customer understand that the job has been accepted. By accepting the job, the customer acknowledges that the provider's performance has fully satisfied all terms, conditions, and specifications.
